

Team Keldeck Cooling

- Photovoltaics are temperature sensitive and the conversion efficiency decreases as temperature increases.
- Conversion efficiency may decrease by up to 25%
- Multiple different options exist for cooling photovoltaics
 - They all have drawbacks or limitations
- Team Keldeck Cooling is developing a simple inexpensive inflatable manifold for back-face cooling of photovoltaics.

