

Accelerating a People-Powered Energy Transition

Louisville is working towards 100% clean energy by 2040, but currently, residential buildings are our highest emitting sector and nearly a third of Louisville's households are energy burdened. The Buildings Upgrade Prize will amplify Louisville's Communities Local Energy Action Program (C-LEAP) successes and help us achieve a just clean energy transition in our affordable housing sector through communications, community engagement, and capacity building.
