

Twin Cities, Minnesota

Commercial Decarbonization Initiative

The Lake Street Council and its partners will design and test programs that will connect BIPOC and immigrant entrepreneurs with the resources and support needed to decarbonize their buildings and operations.

This collaborative partnership will ensure that small businesses primarily in Justice40 tracts along the most diverse commercial corridors in the Twin Cities (Minneapolis and Saint Paul, Minnesota) will have equitable access to federal and state climate investments, positioning these communities as national leaders on climate action and creating replicable, scalable models for others to follow.
