

Hardtech Energy Accelerator

BRITE is an innovation-first ecosystem advancing the transition to a clean energy economy. BRITE provides signature programs, an expansive network, and a strategic presence to unleash the energy revolution. BRITE is Ohio’s only clean energy incubator, serving startups across the state with direct mentorship and access to a robust community of founders, industry, government, and venture.

Through the development of BRITE’s signature programs, the organization has identified clusters of hardtech startups across the state of Ohio that do not have access to necessary resources.

BRITE is testing this use-case through the development of an MVP to engage graduate, post-graduate and post-doctorate students from public universities across rural, urban and disadvantaged communities.

