

Door'n Again: A Plan to Accelerate a Material Reuse Ecosystem for Commercial Wood Doors through Remanufacturing & Refurbishment

Large qtys. of non-matching doors available but not desirable

Sell back to commercial projects in larger quantities to get larger share of market

Aggregate and run through scalable and consistent processes

Sanding, re-veneering and re-finishing processes to create new look and uniform appearance

Integrate remanufactured product with rest of door system to meet needs of customer
