

White Earth Net-Zero Sustainable Community

Net Zero Nations is a grass-roots nonprofit organization committed to dismantling structural poverty on the White Earth Reservation in NW Minnesota by weaving together cultural values, net-zero home ownership and a community solar garden to create a sustainable community.

The White Earth Reservation suffers from inefficient energy utilities and housing infrastructure.

- Energy Poverty
- Limited access to renewable energy
- Reliance on fossil fuels
- Climate vulnerability
- Substandard and energy inefficient housing

NET ZERO NATIONS TEAM

- Enrolled member of the White Earth Nation, born, raised, and resides on the Reservation
- Former chairman of White Earth Nation and experience in all forms of government funding relative to tribal, state, and federal
- 40 years experience creating strategic partnerships among governmental entities and private sector businesses

- White Earth Nation descendant
- Licensed general contractor
- Net-zero builder
- International green energy projects

- Enrolled member of the White Earth Nation
- Holds a masters of social work degree
- Lifelong advocate of Tribal Equality

