

If you are thinking of a solution to use your rooftop solar in emergencies when the grid fails and are calculating ROI for the battery backup, think no further. NAVIA INVERTERS will provide you emergency back up without a battery back up system. Our Solar Inverter will continue to provide available energy to your critical load, without an investment in battery backup system.

At night, no worries, plug your EV to our Inverter and you will continue to receive the energy you need.

We make your solar systems work in emergency or normal day equally well at half the cost.